PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 8.—Good scoring marked the semi-final matches played in the Lakeworth Golf tourney today. Walter J. Travis of Garden City and John Naething of Englewood were the survivors and they will meet tomorrow in the 18-hole final. Travis scored a 31 for the first nine and led his opponent, W. P. Wood, by five up at this point. As Travis sustained his lead, he eventually won out, 5-4. Naething opposed Walter Fairbanks of Denver and won by 6-4. The match ended when Naething chipped a thirty-yard niblick shot into the hole at the fourteenth green for a two. Both Travis and Naething had medal cards of approximately 79.

Results on the Turf; Owner Baker Tranquil as to Killifer

By International News Service. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 6.—Presi-PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 6.—President William F. Baker of the Philadelphia baseball club of the National leauge is not at all perturbed over the notice he has received from President Gilmore of the Federal league regarding Baker's action in signing Bill Killifer, the backstop, to play for the Phillies for three years after the catcher had already appended his signature to a Federal league contract. Baker declares that the Phillies had an option on Killifer's services, he having caught for that team during the last two season, and that Killifer's contract with the Federals is therefore not worth the paper on which it is written.

TROPICAL SNAKE FROZEN TO DEATH

A snake of an unknown species, thought to be non-poisonous, which had been transported all the way from Central America with a shipment of bananas for Salt Lake, arrived at the freight depot of a local railroad Thursday, and, after being exposed to the cold air, became frozen and afterward died.

It is said that the snake was very much alive upon arriving in Ulah. When it was found to be frozen after it had been out of the car for some time, it was taken to the Deseret museum and an effort was made to thaw it out in the hope that life would return. The efforts were futile, however, and the snake is now undergoing the preservation stage in a tank of formaldehyde. It will be added to the reptile collection in the Deseret museum.
